- IV. Unless you are in the MSTP program, please indicate the semester and year you intend to satisfy the core course requirements (16 graded credits) for the PhD degree requirements in the Cell and Molecular Pathology Graduate Program (excluding research and thesis). Indicate when you intend to complete each activity. This plan may also include an optional teaching experience. Indicate test results of previous courses completed at other institutions that fulfill the core course requirements for the PhD.
- V. Bring your implemented IDP to the certification committee meeting for committee review. To get started on your IDP please click on the link below. <https://grad.wisc.edu/professional-development/individual-development-plan/>
- VI. Committee has reviewed and approved student's IDP: yes _____ no _____
- VII. The CMP Program does not require a minor however, students may choose to complete one. If this is something you are considering, please contact the (minor) department for requirements and bring that information to your committee meeting. You will need your committees support to increase your course load.
- VIII. In order to retain our “no minor required” status, CMP must be able to demonstrate that students are receiving breadth in their education. We do this with our curriculum, elective requirement, and professional development requirements we ask you to report annually, along with other activities such as professional conferences.
- IX. Submit certification form, IDP, and Minor notice to the CMP Admin office. Please scan and send this completed form to wigand@wisc.edu
